The Worlds Top Industrial Strength Blowguns
MADE IN THE USA

Hatzco Industries manufactures a selection of several parts to assist in configuring blowguns for specific jobs. These parts are incorporated into several versions of tools that can be found in our online store, www.hatzco.com, by different product designations. For instance, there are extension tubes of varying length for the BP (Bang Pruf) basic airgun and the XP High Volume models.

We also manufacture special tips for the BP and XP models that include standard nozzles as well as OSHA approved versions.

HATZCO INDUSTRIES

Not all Blowguns are created equal. Hatzco Industries has been a world leader in industrial grade air and air/liquid blowguns for decades. Hatzco's first class engineering with a strong focus on quality control ensures products that are highly efficient and durable. Our heavy duty blowguns are being utilized in many industrial sectors including forestry, lumber, machining, tire manufacturing, automotive, waste management and many more!

Blow guns are ideal replacements for effectively cleaning surfaces with air or liquid pressure. They are ideal for parts cleaning, chip removal, part drying or ejection, material or fiber conveying and more!

Hatzco Industries manufactures three different styles of hard duty, industrial air guns. Plus there are variations of each style that will allow you to customize the gun to the specific job requirement.

Standard BP

The standard BP (Bang Prof) has a hefty forged body and metal to metal seat. It contains no springs or disc and the simple and sturdy construction means you will never have any service or maintenance issues. It features 1/4" and 3/8" NPT inlets, has a variety of tips and extensions, and has a lifetime warranty.

DS Air & Liquid

The DS Air & Liquid model is a heavy duty air gun for atomized spray of thin solutions. The rugged construction, with the option of an aluminum or bronze body, has a 1/4" hose connection. Nine inch extension nozzles are also available.

XP High Volume

The XP High Volume model has a 1/2" 170cfm at 100psi inlet with a heavy duty forged aluminum or optional bronze body. Extra long nozzles (up to 48") are available. The basic model has no discharge nozzle, but a 3" aluminum nipple discharge with no relief at the tip or a 3" aluminum nipple and discharge with OSHA relief tip may be ordered separately.

One thing you can count on with Hatzco

The construction quality of all our products is always going to be first class and the durability of our tools is legend in the industry. We're a solid American company that still believes in the inherent spirit that drives quality and innovation. So, if your business requires the best blowgun products in the world, you'll find them right here!
